Not long after I moved to Trammel did I realize that I made the right decision. Many people have come to talk to me, ask for errands, and hear my marvelous voice. I am indebted to Gregory Ironhand for crafting the tuning fork for me before I moved. I was able to verify my vocals were finely tuned. Sadly, it wore out and became out of tune soon after I moved here. No matter, I now know my voice is perfect. There is no need to find him again for a replacement.
